FORT MASON CENTER ANNOUNCES OPENING OF NEW SPACE DOWNTOWN

Fort Mason Opens New Downtown Center

The Fort Mason Downtown Information Center opens to the public on March 1, 1984. Located at 15 Columbus Ave. in the former premises of the Ecology Center, this space will give people in the financial district easy access to information about Fort Mason Center and its resident groups.

Now completely redecorated, the downtown location has become a pleasant, convenient place for community groups to rent for meetings, or to use for exhibits and displays. According to Marc Kasky, Fort Mason's Executive Director, "this space has a long history of serving the community, ever since its opening as the Ecology Center on Earth Day, thirteen years ago."

The 1,000 square feet of space is shared with the Turning Earth Ecology Center and Restaurant which will continue to serve homemade vegetarian lunches.

Looking to the future, it is planned to use the Downtown Center for ticket sales for events held at Fort Mason Center, classes and meetings, and other uses as determined by the needs of the community.

3RD ANNUAL DART TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD AT FORT MASON MAR. 23-25

Almost every night after work, in many of San Francisco's pubs, you can watch people playing a friendly game of darts over a few beers. Just an amusing pastime for some—but for others, darts is a competitive sport culminating in the Annual Dart Championship sponsored by the SF Dart Association. The 3rd Annual Championship, being held for the 2nd consecutive year at Fort Mason Center, offers individual dart players and teams a chance to win up to a total of $10,000 in prize money. Some of the teams play in the SF league each Wednesday night throughout the City, and compete for trophies, but the SF Championship, one of the most successful events of its kind in the U.S., is eagerly awaited by both local and national dart enthusiasts.

Though the contestants take the sport seriously, the atmosphere at the Championship is very much a celebration—spirits run high among the fans who come to cheer their favorites on to victory. Last year, in fact, public response was so overwhelming, the sponsors of the Championship decided to move this year's event from the Conference Center to Pier 3 in order to accommodate more people. The tournament beginning on Friday March 23, is divided into 6 contests:

—Blind Draw Doubles—Fri—7:30pm-Midnight
—Ladies Singles—Sat—10am-11pm
—Open Doubles—10am-11pm
—Four Person Team—10am-11pm
—Mixed Triples—Sun—10am-9pm
—Open Singles—Sun—10am-9pm

There will be 32 competition boards and 8 practice boards. Refreshments will be available and the Loft Dart Shop of Berkeley will sponsor a booth selling dart supplies and tee-shirts. There is no entrance fee for spectators. For more information about the 3rd Annual S.F. Dart Championship please call 552-6618 or 525-1741.

GGNRA AND FMC ENTER INTO NEW 20 YEAR AGREEMENT

"The twenty-year extension enables us to do two important things: first; to offer a stable, long-term home to the hundreds of non-profit organizations which produce events at FMC; and second, to solicit private funds to complete the renovations on our facilities. We are very proud of the strong endorsement which this new agreement represents."

—Marc Kasky
Executive Director, FMC

Seven years ago, the GGNRA and the newly formed Fort Mason Foundation, entered into a unique partnership which resulted in the formation of Fort Mason Center. New paint gave the old buildings a much needed facelift; and the once stark interiors were imaginatively redesigned and decorated to accommodate a restaurant, galleries and theaters. Non-profit groups moved their offices to Fort Mason Center and their activities coupled with special events, classes, workshops and conventions brought many visitors to the complex each year.

Today, Fort Mason Center, already rich in the history of our nation and our state, reverberates with the sounds of new life. Formerly deserted hallways are filled with men, women and children hurrying to classes or offices. Art Center students bring their pottery outside to dry on the sunny walkways around Building B, while visitors and staff members picnic outside and chat with passersby.

Fort Mason Center was, at the beginning, experimental in nature. Some of the renovation was slow, and the operation of this new venture—an urban cultural establishment in a National Park setting—was akin to sailing a boat in uncharted waters. But the cooperation between the GGNRA and the staff and board of FMC allowed this vital public resource to develop, while providing guidelines for maintaining a quality service. The FMC staff came to appreciate the advantages of being associated with the National Park Service, and the Park Service employees found the FMC staff skilled in dealing with the urban constituency and in handling the day-to-day details of running a smooth operation.

The success of these past seven years has given both sides the confidence to enter into a new twenty-year cooperative agreement which will enable Center staff to plan for a long and productive future and also will provide the security necessary for making the improvements needed to substantially increase the Center's usefulness.

We are proud of the way in which Fort Mason Center has grown to become an important part of the lives of so many in the Bay Area. This level of public support, measured in part by the membership program, "Friends of the Fort," has opened the doors for programs that respond to the needs of people expressing different interests, cultures and ideas.

We, the board and staff of Fort Mason Center will continue to do our best to successfully represent these interests and to maintain a businesslike approach to managing and improving the Center. Fort Mason Center is for you to enjoy and use. Please join with us in making this Center an even more exciting and important part of the Bay Area community.
